Cut out the car and houses below. Place the houses anywhere on the grid where the lines cross. Put the car on the edge where a line touches the edge. Give the children verbal directions to move the car to a house. For example, N4 means move the car to the North 4 points. Remember to move the car on the lines and that where the lines cross are the points you count. Older children may be able to move the car to a house and tell you how they got there using the directions and numbers.
